

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
DISTRICT OF NEW JERSEY

---

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

v.

---

GWENDOLYN JACKSON,

Defendant.

---

Cr. Action No. 09-154 (KSH)

ORDER

KATHARINE S. HAYDEN, U.S.D.J.

Before the Court is an appeal from an order [D.E. # 36<sup>1</sup>] of Magistrate Judge Patty Schwartz granting in part defendant's motion to limit disclosure of her medical records. In addition to appealing Judge Schwartz's decision to grant limited disclosure of her medical records, defendant spends considerable effort arguing that the bench warrant issued against her is invalid because she did not receive proper notice to appear before Judge Schwartz. Further, defendant claims that Judge Schwartz is unfit for duty and requests the Court to order Judge Schwartz to submit to a mental health exam. In sum and substance, defendant's "appeal" is little else than an attack on the validity of the bench warrant and on Judge Schwartz. Significantly, defendant's papers do not meaningfully address why Judge Schwartz's order regarding the release of her medical records should be vacated.

The bench warrant has already been executed, see D.E. # 41, and thus defendant's appeal is moot as to it, and defendant's ad hominem attack on Judge Schwartz is wholly frivolous. The
